The Alexandria Gazette publishes the following beautiful "extract from a letter written upon the death of a child."

"It went in the morning-a bright and radiant morning-many went yesterday, more to-day, and there are dews to be shed for the departures of to-morrow. And can it be wondered that pleasant summer moraings should beguile them into going?

It is a marvel that they do not wait for the burden and the noon, but follow the lark, and hear her song over the ruin of the rainbow? That these words, so beautiful, they should make so true, "and joy cometh in the morning?"

Going in the morning-a glorious morning—when the sky is all beauty and the word is all bliss; ere the dews have gone to heaven, or the stars have gone to God; when the birds are singing, and the cold winds are blowing; and the flowers are out that will be shut at noon, and the clouds that are never rent in rain, and the shadows inlaid with crimson lie away to the

A Touch of Nature.

On board the steamer Ocean, between Develand and Detroit a circumstance of curred not long ago, which is pleasantly told by a correspondent of the Cleveland Herald;

A young girl, apparently about 17 years of age, was seated upon a pile of cheese boxes, with her two little brothers, aged 11 and 18 years. They were orphans, bound from Alleghany, Pennsylvania, to Michigan, where they expected to find a home

After having purchased second class tick ets for the three, the girl had spread her old quilt on the pite of cheese boxes, and prepared to pass the night in quietude. She had hardly arranged her nest, however, before she was accidentally discovered by a second class passenger, a tall young man of 23 years, who had loved her in seeret almost from her infancy, and who, for the past two years, had been rafting lumber on the Ohio River. Having acquired about two hundred dollars in hard currency, he came to Cleveland on the 10th ult. to participate in the celebration, when, as he expressed it, "some mean kuss had picked his pocket of every darned cent but four dollars."

Being unable to find the thief or the money, he had started for the West with the determination to hire out on a farm. To his surprise and joy he found himself on board the same vessel with the object of his heart's earliest affections.

Sliding up to her, he exclaimed : "Why, Cynthia Ann! why, how do you dew? I didn't hardly know you! him. But it was no go; massa git mad. Why, how you've grow'd! Where are "Here, take him away an' bile him a

"I'm going to uncle's, in Michigan," was the feeble reply. "You knew mother was dead, didn't you?"

"Why no!" and his voice softened When did she die, Cynthia Ann?" "She died last January. Uncle wrote to me that if I'd come up there he'd give me and the boys a home

"Cynthia Ann!" and the young man's voice trembled- 'there ain't no man'll be so glad to give you a home as I will! I've allers thought a heap of you! 'I told your mother when you wasn't more'n so high that when you grow'd up I was a goin to have you. Now, Cynthia Ann-jest say the word, and you're to hum now!

"What'll become of the boys?" inquired the agitated maiden.

"I'll go with you and leave 'cm to your uncle's, and then we'll go West and hire or t this fall and winter, and then next oring we'll buy a small farm and live to

The girl gave a warm sigh of accept ancce, leaned her head against the honest breast of the hardy youth, as much as to say-if you want anything, take it.

The man snatched a kiss from her rip

"I am a justice of the peace," remarked a venerable looking old man from York State, "re-m unt the cheese boxes, and you shall be a married man in less than five minutes."

AYER'S Ague Cure,

Intermittent Fever, or Fever and Ague, Remittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical Headache, or Billous Headache, and Billous Fevers, indeed for the whole class of diseases origi-nating in biliary derangement, caused by the Malaria of miasmatic countries.

No one remedy is louder called for by the necessities of the American people than a surand safe cure for Fever and Ague. Such we are now enabled to offer, with a perfect certainty that it will eradicate the disease, and with assurance, founded on proof, that no harm can arise from its use in any quanno harm can arise from its use in any quantity.

That which protects from or prevents this disorder must be of immense service in the communities where it prevails. Prevention is better than eure, for the patient escapes the risk which he must run in violent attacks of this baleful distemper. This "Cure" expels the miasmatic poison of Feven and Ague from the system and prevents the development of the disease, if taken on the first approach of its premonitory symptoms. It is proach of its premonitory symptoms. It is not only the best remedy ever yet discovered for this class of complaints, but also the cheapest. The large quantity we supply for a dollar brings it within the reach of every body; and in bilious districts, where Feven AND Ague prevails, every body should have it and use it freely both for cure and protection. It is hoped this price will place it within the reach of all—the poor as well as the rich. A great superiority of this remedy over any other ever discovered for the speedy and cer-tain cure of Intermittents is, that it contains no Quinine or mineral, consequently it pro-duces no quinism or other injurious effects whatever upon the constitution. Those cured by it are left as healthy as if they had never se cured had the disease.

Fever and Ague is not alone the consequen of the miasmatic poison. A great variety of disorders srise from its irritation, among which are Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitation, Painful Affection of the Spleen, Hysterics, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Paralysis, and Derangement of the Stomach all of which, when originating in this cause all of which, when originating in this cause, but on the intermittent type, or become periodical. This "Cure" expels the poison from the blood, and consequently cures them all alike. It is an invaluable protection to immigrants and persons travelling or temporarily residing in the malarious districts. If taken octasionally or daily while exposed to the infection, that will be excreted from the system, and cause heaven the insufficient continues. and cannot accumulate in sufficient quantity to ripen into disease. Hence it is even more valuable for protection than cure, and few will ever suffer from Intermittents, if they avail themselves of the protection this remedy af-are so composed that dispase within the range of their action can rarely withstand or erade them.

are so composed that direase within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search, and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Net only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiceness, Heartburn, Headache arising from disordered Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Pain in and Morbid Inaction of the Bureels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, and other kindred complaints, arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions. They are an excellent alterative for the renovation of the blood and the restoration of tone and strength to the system debilitated by disease.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hourseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulnes; and so mumerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate discases of the langs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and cangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have falled and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.
